DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-34 are in the case.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 5, drawn to pyridinyl piperidines, classified in class 546, subclass 193. If this group is elected, generic claims 1-5, 7-20, 24-31 reading on one of X is N can be prosecuted together with the claims.
- II. Claim 6, 21-23 drawn to phenyl piperidines, classified in class 546, subclass various, depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed species is also required. Generic claims 1-5, 7-20, 24-31 reading on all X are CR1, can be prosecuted together with the claims.
- III. Claim 32, drawn to method of treating depression etc., classified in class 514, subclass various, depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed compound for a single disclosed depression is also required.
- IV. Claim 33, drawn to method of treating urinary disorder etc., classified in class 514, subclass various, depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed compound for a single disclosed urinary disorder is also required.
- V. Claim 34, drawn to method of treating eating disorder, classified in class 514, subclass various, depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed compound for a single disclosed eating disorder is also required.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Art Unit: 1625

Compounds of groups I and II are independent and distinct because the core structure of the group I and group II compounds are different. A reference anticipating one group would not render another group obvious.

Inventions I or II and inventions III-V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case at least the method of treating depression can be practiced with compounds of US 4,721,723.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai; In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996).

Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include all the limitations of the product claims. Applicants are reminded of propriety of process of use claims in consideration of the "reach-through" format, which is drawn to mechanistic, receptor binding or enzymatic functionality. Reach through claims are considered lacking of descriptive and enabling support from the specification. Thus, rejoinable process of use claims are those with particular disease named with efficacy support from the specification for treating the particular disease. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01. Filing of appropriate terminal disclaimer in anticipation of a rejoinder may speed prosecution and the process of rejoinder.

2. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1625

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
